

PRODUCT CHANGES

www.baslerweb.com

From: Basler Product Management
Date: 19th September 2017
Subject: pilot cameras with sensor KAI2093 (mono)

Reasons for discontinuation:

Decreasing sales numbers and limited parts availability cause the discontinuation of our pilot camera models with KA2093 (mono) sensor.

All other active pilot models can still be ordered as usual.

Please find more information about availability dates and recommended replacement products in the table below.

We would like to discuss the alternatives for your requirement with you personally in a close cooperation. Please contact your local sales representative for assistance. To ensure that we can fulfill your demand we really appreciate if you can provide us with a rough forecast identifying your demand for the time until the production stop.

Thank you for being a valued Basler customer, we appreciate your support and we will continue to bring you the absolute best in imaging processing products and services.
